>Donald Trump has issued a pair of executive orders that would ban any US transactions with the Chinese companies that own TikTok and WeChat, saying the US must take “aggressive action” in the interest of national security.

Executive orders issued late on Thursday would prohibit “any transaction by any person, or with respect to any property, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States,” with the companies, beginning in 45 days...
...The US president’s order comes after India’s government recently banned nearly 60 Chinese mobile apps, including TikTok and WeChat, after a clash between the two nations’ militaries.

China has also blocked US tech companies from doing business in the country for years and has placed regulations on US websites and social media platforms that are accessible there.

The executive order came as the US Senate on Thursday unanimously voted to approve a bill banning federal employees from using TikTok on government-issued devices."
•Excellent news, Sir.

So what is the logical next step here
A) put in laws to protect the people from corporate censorship
Or
B) ban tik-tok and WeChat
The absolute best shill you can use is to say that this is preparation for more control over the tech giants but it's pretty easy to argue he is protecting the same corporate entities that cause so much censorship and unamerican activity.
Pathetic

Love is the highest intelligence.
If you only knew the perversion of our true path.

The depth of the evil ,
Without the divine intervention, time being shortened for the sake of the elect. There would be nothing left to save.

Timing is everything, many aren't ready
But you boys will be the first.

Again , bravo.
Don't fret
Righteous
Harvest
Inbound.

Divine right , ive said it many times. Timing is everything
My msg i resonate when it needs to , to those who see.
Pure jubilation, and their absolute desolation

Rejoice.
